

Report on Student Hunger

University as a body provide interventions to prevent or alleviate hunger among students

Year 2024-25

SDG-2	ZERO HUNGER
University as a body provide interventions to prevent or alleviate hunger among students

Two practical measures on campus deal with student hunger directly. The first is a food bank that students can turn to when they need food, and the University keeps a record of what the food bank holds and how much of it is used. The second is the price of everyday food. The campus store, the food court and the eatable vending machines serve selected items at reduced cost, and these items and their prices are shown in the approved menu card. Both measures sit alongside the concession scheme and the free-meal support described for the student food insecurity programme (2.3.1).

The food bank availability and utilization record and the approved menu card showing the reduced-cost items are the documents attached for this question.
