

Report on Student Hunger

University as a body provide interventions to prevent or alleviate hunger among staff

Year 2024-25

SDG-2	ZERO HUNGER
University as a body provide interventions to prevent or alleviate hunger among staff

Staff use the campus canteen, cafeteria and food court on the same terms as students, with no restriction by designation or department, and staff who live in university accommodation can eat on campus without going out for daily food. Where a staff member needs more help, the University gives it directly. Faculty can receive free or subsidized meals, and breakfast, lunch and dinner are provided to faculty members who are identified as needy.

Non-teaching staff can receive free essential food items such as rice, pulses, flour and oil. Meals and refreshments are also arranged for staff during institutional programmes, meetings and extended duties.

The records of free and subsidized meals for faculty, of meal provision to needy faculty, and of essential food items given to non-teaching staff are attached.

DOCUMENTS REQUIRED

- ✓ Free/subsidized meals for faculty
- ✓ Provision of breakfast, lunch and dinner to identified needy faculty
- ✓ Free essential food items such as rice, pulses, flour and oil for non-teaching staff

