Year 2024-25

SDG-3

GOOD HEALTH AND WELL-BEING

University as a body have current collaborations with local, national or global health institutions to improve health & wellbeing outcomes

The University works with hospitals and other health institutions under signed MoUs, and the list of MoUs signed in 2024-25 is attached. These partnerships add to health facilities the University already has: the affiliated Homoeopathic and Ayurvedic Medical College and Hospital units, the School of Pharmacy and the campus Health Centre.

Through the MoUs and related collaborations, the University and its partners hold health screening and medical camps, awareness campaigns, health education sessions, counselling and wellness programmes, first-aid and emergency-response training and blood donation drives, and carry out preventive health and community outreach work. Students, faculty and staff take part, and the camps and outreach reach people from the surrounding community as well.

The activities done through each MoU or collaboration in 2024-25 are listed, and a report is available for each activity.
