University as a body have a policy addressing women's applications, acceptance/entry, and participation at the university

Year 2024-25

SDG-5

GENDER EQUALITY

University as a body have a policy addressing women's applications, acceptance/entry, and participation at the university

The University's policy on women's participation covers the whole path from application to graduation in a single statement. Admission criteria are the same for all applicants and are reviewed every year to confirm that they remain gender-neutral. Once admitted, women students have equal access to hostels, the library, laboratories and co-curricular activities, and they are represented in the Student Council and in the student forums of the Schools.

The Provost's office oversees the policy, the Admissions Office and academic administration apply it, and the Women's Cell and the Internal Complaints Committee look after participation and safety. The IQAC reviews women's participation in academic and co-curricular activity across the Schools from time to time, and the Principal of Schools such as Engineering and Agriculture watch equal access to laboratory, workshop and fieldwork.
